

Areas of expertise

Our team of expert clinicians have developed niches of subspecialised work, attracting a large number of London patients. They are renowned for these services and for their training, treating a wide range of ear, nose, throat, salivary and thyroid conditions.

We have subspecialised teams for complex nose, septorhinoplasty and sinus disease, and our subspecialised ear and mastoid surgeons have developed a national reputation for quality and the large numbers of complex tertiary procedures that they carry out. Our ENT head and neck cancer surgeons are some of the busiest in London, with extensive expertise in laryngeal, throat, head and neck and thyroid cancer.

The excellence of the department is reflected in its popularity and in its reputation amongst trainee surgeons for offering one of the most sought after training programmes in Greater London and the Home Counties.

The team

- 8 consultant ENT surgeons
- 4 registrars, ENT surgery
- 5 senior house officers, ENT surgery

North West London Regional Maxillofacial Service

Providing the highest quality Maxillofacial Surgery

The North West London Regional Maxillofacial Service at Northwick Park Hospital in Harrow is a recognised centre of surgical excellence. It provides a pool of expertise in facial trauma, facial deformity and orthognathic surgery, skin cancer and head and neck cancer, and serves the whole of this part of the capital.

The range and depth of expertise we offer by bringing every aspect of maxillofacial surgery under the same roof makes Northwick Park one of the largest units in the UK and Europe, with a national and international reputation for patient care and being one of the most popular training units in the Greater London area.

Areas of expertise

Our team of expert clinicians treats the full remit of conditions affecting the face, jaw, mouth, teeth, neck, salivary glands and skin cancer. We have subspecialised teams performing complex tertiary surgery on major facial trauma and correction of trauma and congenital deformities with orthognathic surgery and orbital and post-traumatic corrective septorhinoplasty surgery.

Our head and neck cancer subspecialist team carries out advanced tertiary head and neck cancer ablation of the face, mouth and jaw and provides the full remit of free flap reconstruction techniques for the reconstruction of complex head and neck defects.

The service has onsite access to rehabilitation of all complex dento-facial and oral defects, with advanced dental implant prosthodontics and a large expert group of orthodontic consultants who are key to the management of orthognathic and trauma patients in our subspecialised, multi-disciplinary facial deformity clinics.

Our large, onsite maxillofacial laboratory manufactures a range of prosthetic equipment for trauma, cancer and orthognathic patients.

The team

- 9 consultant maxillofacial surgeons
- 5 registrars, maxillofacial surgery
- 12 senior house officers, maxillofacial surgery
- 12 clinical fellows, maxillofacial surgery
- 4 consultant orthodontists
- 1 specialist prosthodontist
- 1 special needs dentist

Leaders in the field

We are leaders in basic and translational research in bone regeneration, with national and international publications. As one of the largest units in the UK and Europe, we are a stalwart for service training and training future surgeons in the NHS and private sector.

Ear, Nose, Throat, Head and Neck Surgery

Providing a high quality Subspecialist Regional ENT Service

The department is the largest provider of ENT services in North West London, also based at Northwick Park Hospital. It is sited next to the Maxillofacial Service and together they are among the biggest providers of head and neck services in London and the UK.
